

NANOWRIMO

Frankfurt Book Fair 2007, Forum Innovation, Hall 4.2 P421, Sunday 10/14/2007, 11-14h

You are the publishers. We are the writers. The world's biggest authoring factory on the Frankfurt Book Fair

Where else can you find more than 80.000 authors than at NaNoWriMo? The world's biggest authoring factory presents itself for the first time on the Frankfurt Book Fair on Sunday, 14th October 2007 in Hall 4.2.

Last November, 80.276 authors around the globe participated in National Novel Writing Month with the aim to write a novel of at least 50.000 words in 30 days. 12.961 accomplished it, thereof more than 600 in German speaking areas.

Learn more about it by visiting the presentation of the NaNoWriMo-network Cologne/Bonn on Sunday, 14th October 2007 from 11:00 to 14:00
At the "Forum Innovation" in Hall 4.2 P421 at the Frankfurt Book Fair.

15 participants of the 2006 NaNoWriMo (nanowrimo.org) report about their experiences of writing a novel in 30 days – with the support of a global and fast growing online community – and read excerpts of their NaNoWriMo works.

The event is supported by the German internet base (nanowrimo.de) for authors and people interested in trying NaNoWriMo starting again on 1st November this year.

(Frankfurt/Cologne/Bonn 9/26/2007 – 04/07en)

Websites <http://www.nanowrimo.org>
<http://www.nanowrimo.de>

Contact Edgar Franzmann (edgar@franzmann.de) - Tel.: +49 177 8888 215
Michael Lüdeke (mluedeke@gmail.com) - Tel.: +49 160 6914 239

nanowrimo.de nanowrimo.de is a german internet base for authors participating or interested in participating in National Novel Writing Month (nanowrimo.org). The purpose of nanowrimo.de is to support authors in writing and publishing their novels and other works.